

HOW TO:

Tile Napkin Holder

Supplies:

Three 4x4 tiles—white is best for decorating, but experiment with what works for you!

Spray paint*

Paint Brushes

Mod Podge

Small piece of scrap wood, 4 inches long

Felt*

Spray Adhesive*

*Spray paint is what was used for this tutorial. You can also use acrylic paint, Sharpies, and more to decorate the tiles

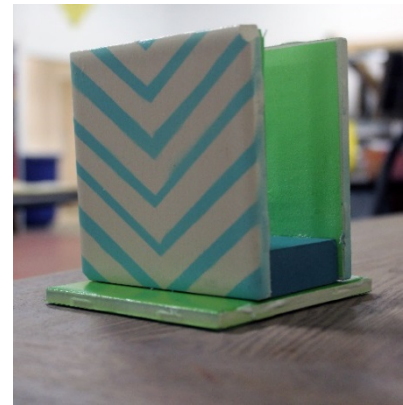

*Felt is ideal for the bottom of the tiles in order to protect what is below it; paper can also be used.

*Spray adhesive is what was used for this tutorial, if you have a favorite crafting adhesive that would be suitable, use it!

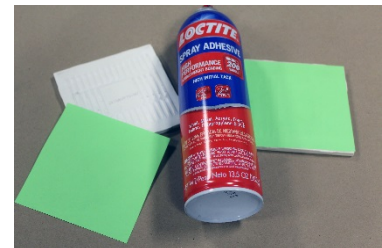

BEFORE:

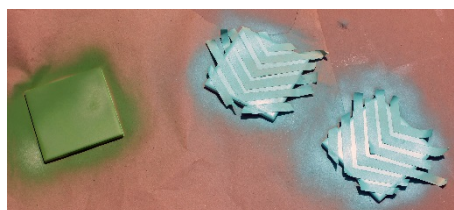

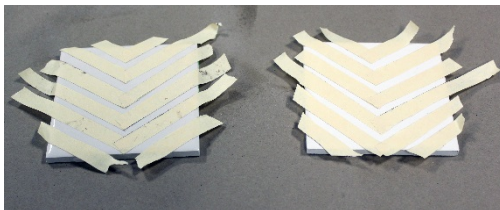

AFTER:

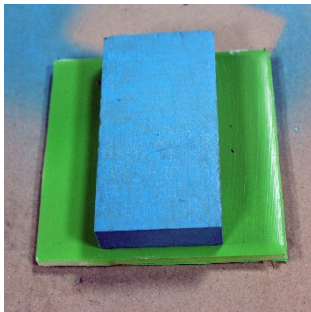

Step 1: Use spray adhesive to attach your felt or other material to the bottom of the tile. Whatever you use for the bottom of the tile is supposed to protect what is below the napkin holder.

Step 2: Decorate your tile! We used tape to make a chevron design and then spray painted the tiles. You will also want to paint the scrap piece of wood as it will be visible on the finished product. Let your paint and other decorations dry completely.

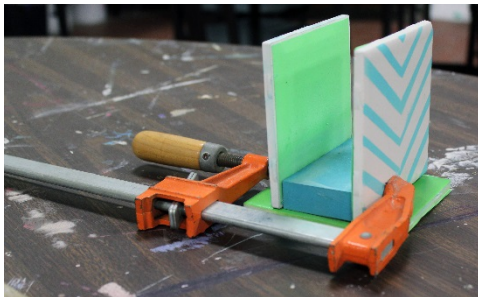

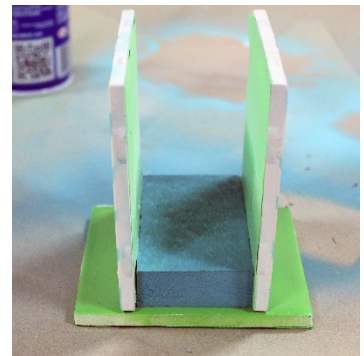

Step 3: Use Mod Podge as a sealant for the paint. Paint a coat on, and let dry completely.

Step 4: Using spray adhesive, glue the scrap piece of wood onto the middle of your napkin base and let dry.

Step 5: Using spray adhesive, glue the side tiles to the block of wood

Step 6: Use a vice to pinch the tiles against the wooden block. Leave for 24 hours to let the glue bond completely.

Step 7: Put napkins in your new holder and enjoy the meals that will surround it!
